An open-access mandate policy

An open-access mandate policy has been adopted by the KAW foundation. WASP requires that all grant recipients make their published, peer-reviewed journal articles and conference papers open access by publishing them in an open-access journal ("Gold OA") and/or by self-archiving their final, peer-reviewed drafts in a freely accessible institutional repository and/or disciplinary repository ("Green OA").

Please contact your library to make sure that the repository fulfills the journal's requirement regarding open access (read more here https://v2.sherpa.ac.uk/romeo/about.html). It is allowed to use WASP funds allocated for operational costs (travel and material costs) to support fees associated with OA publishing.
